SAN DISTILLERY

Home to Jefferson's Bourbons

A very unique place in the world of distillery tours. This ice cream factory-turned-distillery started out as a contract bottler and distiller for many different customers. They now focus on three distinct primary brands: Jefferson's Bourbons, Whiskey Row Bourbon and Highspire Rye Whiskey.

Guests are given an opportunity to learn the fascinating story behind the Jefferson's brands, while touring a one-of-a-kind distillery and seeing the fascinating process of bourbon production... from grain to bottle.

Every tour offers a behind-the-scenes view of the process as visitors actually talk to the distillers, witness the corn being brought over by tractor from Waldeck Farms, and walk through our laboratory to see where the experiments of Jefferson's founder and master blender, Trey Zoeller, come to life.

For your bourbon tasting, belly up to our custom bar – an historical bank teller window saved from the old Bank of Pewee Valley, which closed in 1950.

And while you wait for your tour, check out our charming gift shop, offering unique Jefferson's keepsakes and Kentucky-inspired products.
